

ROUNDAABOUT--Supplement.

Bridgeport.

Apple Butter is ripe.

* Fred Rump is on the sick list.

The coon business has commenced.

A splendid rain last Tuesday morning.

The farmers have commenced sowing wheat.

Miss Mollie Coleman is in the village this week.

Mrs. Julia Bailey is very much indisposed this week.

Miss Bettie McWilliams is in Louisville this week.

Irish potato digging in full blast; the yield is enormous.

Cabbage and turnips almost a failure in this section.

Miss Alice Monday is the guest of Mrs. R. D. Armstrong.

Mrs. J. B. Russell, and Miss Alma Scofield, have returned home from a visit to Louisville.

Col. F. M. Scofield, U. S. Store-keeper, has been assigned to duty at the Hermitage Distillery.

Willie Zook, of Lafayette county, Mo., was in this place last week visiting friends and relatives.

Regular services at South Benson Church to-morrow at 11 o'clock, Rev. W. T. Llewellyn pastor.

Miss Annie Crockett has returned to her home in Louisville, from a four or five months' visit to relatives in this vicinity.

Born.—Sept. 27th, 1883, to Mr. A. B. Branch and wife, a daughter. Also Sept. 30th, 1883, to Mr. Robert Hancock and wife, a daughter.

Roll of honor of Bridgeport school for the week ending October 5th: Lena Roberts, Lucy Brown, Lena Demaree, Jennie Rump, John Brown, Charlie Watts, Willie Chambers.

Davy Sparrow had the misfortune to have one of his hands badly lacerated in a sorghum mill last Tuesday, at his home in Anderson county, necessitating the amputation of three fingers.

Keeling Guines says the fox hunters passed by his place last Wednesday evening with a pack of hounds, and it was as much as he could do to prevent them from chasing his little yellow calf, mistaking it for a red fox.

Antioch.

We have had a good rain.

Miss Lee Rossell is visiting relatives over the river this week.

Mr. Wm. Snow has removed from this neighborhood to Frankfort.

Mr. Simon Harper has joined the Shakers—he has the chills.

The storm last Sunday evening did very little damage in this neighborhood.

Mr. James Scott and wife, of Louisville, were visiting relatives in this vicinity last week.

Miss Lena Sheets, of Benson, has been visiting friends in this neighborhood this week.

Mr. Sam. Lewis and wife, of Belle Point, visited the family of Mr. James Glore last Sunday week.

Mrs. Arnold and daughter, Miss Belle, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Doc. Arnold, in Belle Point.

The young folks were given a candypulling at Mrs. Arnold's on Friday night of last week, which was greatly enjoyed by all. Among the gentlemen present was Mr. H. Fintel, of Frankfort.

Messrs. Newt. and Tom Hale, from over the river, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in this place.

Some of the town folks had a burgoo at Conger's Spring last Sunday. Is there no law to stop such things?

Rev. Polk South closed his meeting at Antioch last Saturday night week, there being 22 additions, 18 of whom were by baptism.

NIX.

Flag Fork.

Molasses next.

We have had a splendid rain and everything is refreshing.

Mr. Peter Brawner has about recovered from a recent illness.

Doctors have plenty of riding to do, as there is a great deal of sickness.

We have had a very nice rain, but not enough to fill up the vacant holes in the creek and start the water to running.

It seems strange that they cannot find anyone guilty of kukluxism, as there is getting to be a great deal of it done in this section.

Mr. Jno. Stivers is getting along very well with his pike. It will not take him a long while to have it completed, which will be a great blessing to the citizens of Flag Fork.

We had a large attendance at Mount Carmel Sunday-school last Sabbath. We were visited by the friends and scholars of the Pleasant View Church to the number of 81 persons. The school was opened by Mr. Wm. Dearing, by reading a chapter and a short prayer; singing was conducted by Willis Rodgers, of Lebanon. All who were present had a joyful time.

Died.—On the farm of Mr. O. B. Polsgrove, Mr. M. A. Smith, age 23 years. He was soon to have been married to a young lady in Henry county, who is completely overcome by his untimely death.

Death has been here and born away
A brother from our side,
Just in the morning of his day,
In youth and love, he died.

The citizens of Flag Fork and vicinity were sadly surprised Monday the 17th inst. at 8 o'clock a. m. by the announced death of Jasper E. Pole, the eldest son of V. M. and Margaret J. Pole, in the tenth year of his age. He was attacked Friday morning with acute lobular pneumonia. His sufferings were intense, and all attempts of his skillful physicians to alleviate his pains and restore him to health were frustrated. His sufferings were early relieved by the Great Physician, who doeth all things well, and he passed into a quiet sleep never to awake again on earth. Little Jasper was one of those little household angels who carried happiness and sunshine wherever he was present. He was the idol of his father and mother, a favorite of his sisters and brothers, who dearly loved him, and leaves behind him a host of friends, who greatly lament his death.

U. Know.

Sulphur Lick.

As a resort for health seekers, and to those in search of recreation, this place offers superior attractions, being surrounded with beautiful scenery, while the waters of the spring located here possess valuable medicinal properties.

What has become of Hawk Eye, whose spicy effusions were the delight of the readers of the ROUNDAABOUT a few weeks ago? Enter the list again, cousin Hawk Eye, for I'll assure you that whatever emanates from your prolific pen will be read with avidity and duly appreciated by a generous public.

Henry Rodgers, a thrifty farmer and planter, who lives in this section, has successfully grown, cut and housed perhaps the largest crop of tobacco, of the white burley variety, to be found in this part of the county, in addition to which he has cultivated a large lot of cereals of various kinds.

The Sand Riffle boys, who are very fond of soup, are very anxious to know if Hon. Ira Julian is to be a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives, as they will turn out en masse and urge his election, provided always, that he assures them that he will cater to their taste as he did when a candidate for the Legislature.

W. B. Tracy, a civil magistrate of this district, having received special mention in the ROUNDAABOUT on several occasions, at which he took umbrage, issued peremptory orders for a discontinuance of such doings by your correspondents. After due consideration he has revoked that obnoxious order on the grounds that the material prosperity of the paper was endangered by the promulgation of the order, and it being the editor's only means of obtaining an honest livelihood, and hence, seeing the injustice of the procedure, he "hastens slowly" to make amends, and very generously grants permission to the free use of his name in all proper ways. Sally Ann to the contrary notwithstanding.

RUFFS.

Bloomington.

Farmers in this country are busy putting in wheat and other small grain.

Fountain Hayden, Esq., one of our most respected citizens, has been quite ill for several days.

Born.—Sunday morning, September 30th, to the wife of W. H. Pickett, Esq., a son—W. H. Pickett, jr.

Mr. D. Glanton and daughter, Miss Katie, we are glad to say, are able to be up, after an illness of several days.

Miss Annie Cardwell, a charming young lady of the Cedar Run neighborhood, has returned home after a short visit to friends here.

What has become of "Mollie," of Quality Corner? He's a good one, and poor old "Nipper" seems to have let completely down.

William Hayden and Wm. Glanton have located in Arnoldsville, Mo. We hope these young gentlemen will do well in their new home.

These Land Office combinations seem not to stick well these latter years. We understand our own Alex. was provided for, but alas, he goes down with the balance.

Mr. W. F. Smith is now in Lexington attending college, preparatory to entering the ministry. He is an elegant young gentleman, and we predict for him a bright future.

It seems to us that there are more conventions these days than ever before. We scarcely ever pick up a paper but what it contains the proceedings of a convention of one kind or another. During the past few days there have been held in the city of Louisville a National Educational Convention, a National Colored (negro) Convention, and then follows the Convention of National Charities. We don't pretend to know anything about the necessity or importance of these conventions, but if illiteracy in this country is to be wiped out, the negro made more industrious and honest, or discoveries made by which the unfortunate lunatic can be restored to reason, we say amen to the conventions, but we desire to say now that it is high time for the people of this Commonwealth at least to shut down on these half dozen fanatics that are gushing over, and making heroes out of the murderers and thieves that are confined in our prisons. Lets give the honest people of this country an equal chance with the thieves.

OCCASIONAL.

We are compelled to leave over several communications until next week.
